BORGWARNER RECEIVES
2014 EXCELLENCE IN QUALITY AWARD
FROM HONDA NORTH AMERICA

BorgWarner's Facility in Seneca, South Carolina, Receives Twelfth Honda Award

Auburn Hills, Michigan, July 9, 2015 – BorgWarner's manufacturing plant in Seneca, South Carolina, was presented with an Excellence in Quality Award from Honda North America during a ceremony recently held at the Greater Columbus Convention Center in Columbus, Ohio. The award recognized outstanding product quality in 2014. Since 2002, BorgWarner's facility in Seneca has earned 12 supplier awards from Honda, including seven awards for quality, four for delivery and one for engineering innovation.

"We are very pleased to receive this award, which confirms not only our dedication to providing high quality products but our long-standing relationship with Honda," said Dr. Stefan Demmerle, President and General Manager, BorgWarner TorqTransfer Systems. "Congratulations to our employees for earning yet another prestigious honor."

BorgWarner supplies its InterActive Torque Management[®] II (ITM II[®]) all-wheel drive technology for the Honda Pilot.
