Supplier without voiding the warranties in this Agreement and without Buyer waiving any other rights or remedies.

10. INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY.

10.1 Buyer does not transfer to Supplier any of Buyer's Intellectual Property in information, documents, or property that Buyer makes available to Supplier. Supplier may, however, use Buyer's Intellectual Property for the limited purpose of producing and supplying the Products and Services to Buyer. If this Agreement requires that Supplier develop works of original authorship, ideas, inventions, know-how, processes, compilations of information, or other Intellectual Property ("Proprietary Materials") and such development is paid for by Buyer, then all Intellectual Property in such Proprietary Materials is owned by Buyer (the "Developed Intellectual Property"). To the extent that the preceding sentence does not convey all right, title and interest in and to the Developed Intellectual Property to Buyer, Supplier shall assign and does hereby assign to Buyer, Supplier's entire right, title and interest in and to all Developed Intellectual Property. Supplier shall promptly notify Buyer of any Developed Intellectual Property, providing such detail and information as is reasonably necessary. Supplier shall take all action and execute all documents necessary to perfect Buyer's ownership of all Developed Intellectual Property, as Buyer may request from time to time. Buyer shall retain all rights to current and future modifications made by either Party to the Developed Intellectual Property. Upon termination of this Agreement or upon request by Buyer at any time, Supplier shall deliver to Buyer all tangible Developed Intellectual Property and any copies then in Supplier's possession or under Supplier's control.

10.2 Supplier shall indemnify, defend, and hold harmless Buyer and its Affiliates, and each of their respective direct or indirect equityholders, members, managers, directors, officers, employees, and agents (each an "Indemnitee") from and against Losses arising out of any third-party claim, suit, or cause of action alleging that any Product and/or Service, and/or the possession or use thereof by any Indemnitee, infringed upon, violates, or misappropriates any Intellectual Property of a third party. At Buyer's sole discretion, if the Products or Services are alleged to infringe or their use is enjoined, Supplier will at its expense: (i) modify the Products or Services to be non-infringing; (ii) obtain for Buyer a right or license to continue using the Products or Services; or (iii) procure and deliver to Buyer alternate Products or services that meet the requirements of this Agreement so that Buyer has the right to use and to sell products with alternate Products or services.

11. OPEN SOURCE MATERIALS AND VIRAL LICENSES.

11.1 Supplier represents and warrants that no good, service, or software provided by Supplier under this Agreement, or the possession or use thereof by Buyer or any Buyer Affiliate or user as contemplated by this Agreement, will result in any Buyer, Buyer Affiliate, or Buyer User work of authorship or other materials becoming subject to any Viral License.

11.2 No inclusion of any "open source" or similar materials in, or with, any good, service, or software provided by Supplier under this Agreement will reduce or otherwise affect any representation, warranty, or covenant of Supplier with respect to such good, service, or software, even if Supplier provides with such good, service, or software a license or other materials with disclaimers with respect to warranties with respect to the goods, service, or software.

12. TERMINATION.

- 12.1 Buyer may terminate all or any part of this Agreement, without liability to Supplier if Supplier: (a) repudiates or breaches any of the terms of this Agreement, including Supplier's warranties; or (b) fails to perform Services or deliver Products in accordance with the requirements of this Agreement; and does not correct such failure or breach within 30 days after Buyer gives notice specifying such failure or breach. Any such termination is not an exclusive remedy.

Supplier shall reimburse Buyer for all Losses Buyer incurs in connection with any of the foregoing whether or not the Agreement is terminated.
- 12.3 In addition to any other rights of Buyer to terminate this Agreement, Buyer may terminate all or any part of a Order Document at any time and for any reason by giving written notice to Supplier. Upon receipt of such notice, Supplier will immediately stop work on the applicable Order Document or the terminated portion thereof and notify any subcontractors to stop work. Buyer will pay to Supplier the Purchase Price for all Products or Services that have been completed in accordance with the Order Document prior to the effective date of termination. Where articles or materials are to be specifically manufactured for Buyer and where Supplier is not in default, an equitable adjustment shall be made to cover Supplier's actual cost, excluding profit, for work-in-process and raw materials as of the effective date of termination, to the extent such costs are reasonable in amount and are properly allocable or apportionable under generally accepted accounting principles to the terminated portion of the Order Document. Buyer will not be liable for any charges or expenses incurred by Supplier that are not consistent with Buyer's Releases, nor for any expenses, charges or liability incurred after the effective date of termination. Buyer will make no payments for finished Products, work-in-process, or raw materials in amounts in excess of those authorized by Buyer in a Release or for any undelivered Products that are in Supplier's standard stock or that are readily marketable. Supplier must submit any claim to Buyer within 30 days after the date of termination or that claim will be waived. Payments made to Supplier under this Section represent the sole responsibility of Buyer in case of termination of an Order Document.
- 12.4 In connection with the expiration or termination of an Agreement, Statement of Work, Order Document, or Purchase Order, in whole or in part, Supplier will cooperate in the transition of supply. Supplier will continue production and delivery of all Products and Services as ordered by Buyer, at the previously agreed prices and terms during the entire period Buyer reasonably needs to complete the transition to alternate Supplier(s). Supplier shall, as required by Buyer, facilitate the orderly winding down of the provision of Products and Services or transition of the same to a third party, including cooperating with Buyer in the development of a transition plan and third-party personnel training. If transition of supply occurs for reasons other than Supplier's termination or breach, Buyer will, at the end of the transition period, pay the reasonable, actual cost of transition support as requested and incurred, provided that Supplier has advised Buyer prior to incurring such amounts of its estimate of such costs. If the Parties disagree on the cost of transition Support, Buyer will pay the agreed portion to Supplier and pay the disputed portion into third-party escrow for disbursement after the dispute has been resolved.

13. EXCUSABLE DELAYS. Any delay or failure by a Party to fulfill its obligations under this Agreement will not be deemed a breach to the extent that Excusable Delay causes the failure or delay. “Excusable Delay” means acts of God, unavailability of electric power or other utilities, fire, flood, earthquake, tornado, explosions, riot, war, acts of terrorism, embargoes, government actions issued in an emergency, including those that prevent a Party from exercising control over its facility, and any similar circumstance beyond the reasonable control of a Party and without such Party’s fault or negligence. Raw material shortages, labor shortages, or system failures are not Excusable Delays, unless directly caused by an event that constitutes Excusable Delay. The Party impacted by an Excusable Delay must make all reasonable efforts and incur all reasonable costs to mitigate the effect of the Excusable Delay. In no event, however, will Supplier’s inability to perform as a result of any of the following constitute Excusable Delay: (a) Supplier’s insolvency or financial condition; (b) change in cost or availability of raw materials or components based on market conditions; (c) change in cost or availability of a method of transportation; (d) changes in, or implementation of new government regulations, taxes or incentives; (e) failure to obtain permits, licenses or other government approvals; (f) failure to use available substitute services, alternate sources, work-around plans or other means by which the requirements of a buyer of products or services substantively similar to the Products or Services would be satisfied; or (g) labor disruptions, strikes, lockouts and slowdowns affecting a Supplier’s facility or a Supplier’s sub-Supplier’s facility. If the non-performing Party cannot provide adequate assurances that the Excusable Delay will last less than 30 calendar days, or if the non-performance exceeds 30 calendar days, the other Party may terminate this Agreement by notice given to non-performing Party before performance resumes without liability.

14. CONFIDENTIALITY.

14.1 “Confidential Information” Defined. “Confidential Information” of a Party means any information belonging to, or held by, the Party, whether fixed in a tangible medium or otherwise, that is:

- (a) Not readily ascertainable by proper means by the public; and
- (b) The subject of commercially reasonable efforts by the Party under the circumstances keep it from becoming readily ascertainable by proper means by the public.

14.2 Confidentiality Generally. Each Party, as a receiving Party, will do the following things with regard to the Confidential Information of the other Party.

- (a) Prevent the disclosure of the Confidential Information by the receiving Party and each of the receiving Party’s employees, agents, and/or professionals to any third party other than as permitted under this Agreement.
- (b) Use, and permit the use of, the Confidential Information only for the Purpose.
- (c) Disclose the Confidential Information only to such of the receiving Party’s employees, agents, and professionals as have a bona fide need to possess or know the Confidential Information in the course of accomplishing, or advising the disclosing Party with regard to, the Purpose.
- (d) Cause each employee, agent, or professional to whom the receiving Party discloses the Confidential Information to be bound by an obligation of confidentiality that is at least as rigorous as the obligations contained in this Agreement. Each professional, such as a lawyer or an accountant, retained by the receiving Party in a professional-client relationship will be deemed under an adequate obligation of confidentiality for the purposes of this Agreement so long as the law recognizes an obligation of confidence actionable by the receiving Party under law without a separate contractual obligation.

- (e) Return or destroy all written or other tangible copies of Confidential Information in the receiving Party's possession or direct or indirect control, including all extracts and copies thereof, within a reasonable time after, and in accordance with, the disclosing Party's request.

14.3 Exceptions to Confidentiality and Non-Use. Nothing in this Agreement will prevent the receiving Party from disclosing or using Confidential Information of the disclosing Party to the extent that:

- (a) It is or becomes readily ascertainable by proper means by the public without any breach of a confidentiality obligation of the receiving Party;
- (b) It is received from a third party that is not under an obligation of confidentiality of which the receiving Party knew or had reason to know;
- (c) It was independently developed by the receiving Party without use of the disclosing Party's Confidential Information; or
- (d) It is required by law to be disclosed, provided that the receiving Party, to the extent not prohibited by law:
 - (i) Provides to the disclosing Party as much notice as is practicable under the circumstances of such requirement prior to disclosure; and
 - (ii) Provides to the disclosing Party, at the disclosing Party's expense, such reasonable assistance as the disclosing Party requests in seeking confidential treatment, protective orders, nondisclosure, and/or similar measures.

14.4 Injunctive Relief. Because unauthorized use or disclosure of Confidential Information might result in immediate and irreparable injury to the disclosing Party for which monetary damages might not be adequate, in the event that the receiving Party or any officer, director, employee, agent, professional, or subcontractor of the receiving Party uses or discloses Confidential Information or, in the disclosing Party's reasonable opinion, any such person is likely to use or disclose Confidential Information in breach of the receiving Party's obligations under this Agreement, the disclosing Party will be entitled to seek equitable relief, including temporary and permanent injunctive relief and specific performance. The rights in this Section are in addition to any other rights of the disclosing Party under this Agreement, at law, or in equity.

14.5 Duration of Obligations. The obligations under this Agreement will continue after disclosure of each item of Confidential Information for the longer of:

- (a) The time during which the Confidential Information remains a trade secret (as that term is defined in the Uniform Trade Secrets Act) of the disclosing Party; or
- (b) Five years after initial disclosure of that item of Confidential Information.

15. INDEMNIFICATION AND INSURANCE.

15.1 Supplier will indemnify, defend, and hold harmless the Indemnitees and users of its and their products against any and all Losses that arise out of: (a) personal injury, death, or damage to any property in any way connected with Supplier's performance of this Agreement or the Products and/or Services or (b) the performance of any service or work by Supplier or its employees, agents, representatives and subcontractors on Buyer's premises or the use of Buyer's property, except to the extent such liability arises out of the gross negligence or willful misconduct of Buyer. At Buyer's request, Supplier shall defend such claims or suits at Supplier's expense by reputable counsel satisfactory to Buyer. Buyer will have the right to control the defense of any claim made against Buyer. This indemnity will survive acceptance of the Products or completion of the Services, the expiration of the warranty covering the Products or Services, and any expiration or termination of this Agreement.

15.2 Supplier shall, at its expense, maintain insurance at the following minimum levels: (1) general liability insurance with coverage limits of at least $2,000,000, (2) all risk property perils insurance of at least $2,000,000 covering property while in Supplier's care, custody, or control and naming Buyer as loss payee, and (3) worker's compensation insurance as required by applicable law. Supplier will maintain an umbrella policy coverage with a limit of at least $2,000,000. All insurance will be primary and non-contributory to any insurance coverage purchased by Buyer. Supplier releases Buyer, Buyer's agents and employees, on behalf of Supplier and its insurers, from any claims (or rights of subrogation for such claims) to the extent such claims are insured against whether or not such insurance is required by Buyer. All liability insurance will name Buyer as an additional insured and will have a waiver by the insurer of subrogation vis-à-vis Buyer. Upon Buyer's request, Supplier shall furnish Buyer with certificates setting forth the amounts of coverage, policy number(s) and expiration date(s).

16. COMPLIANCE.

16.1 Supplier will comply with applicable Laws in connection with the supply of the Products or Services to Buyer. Upon request by Buyer, Supplier shall certify in writing, from time to time, its compliance with applicable Laws.

Supplier shall provide all documentation and/or electronic transaction records to allow Buyer to meet customs related obligations, any local content and origin requirements, and to obtain all tariff and trade program duty avoidance(s) and/or refund benefits. The rights to, and benefits of, any (1) duty drawback, including rights developed by substitution and rights that may be acquired from Supplier's suppliers and (2) export credits, to the extent transferable to Buyer, are the property of Buyer. Supplier will inform Buyer of such rights and Supplier will provide all documentation and information and take any necessary steps to obtain refunds or drawback of any duty, taxes or fees paid, and to receive export credits from, the government of the country of origin or export country. Supplier will provide Buyer with all documentation and information required by applicable Laws necessary to determine admissibility, timely release, customs clearance, and entry of the Products into the destination country.
